

Archival Services

MCX-CMAC has trained archivists and archives technicians who provide a range of services for documents and records of all types (e.g., government records, archaeological associated records, contracting records, and traditional manuscript collections) and formats (i.e., photographic, paper, electronic, audiovisual, cartographic, and microformats). MCX-CMAC archival staff regularly process archival collections according to modern archival standards, consult with customers on records management policies, procedures, and facilities, perform mechanical conservation tasks to stabilize collections, digitize materials to increase access, and create systems designed to fulfill individual customer requirements in the most efficient and cost-effective manner.

Archival services offered by MCX-CMAC

- Archival processing and physical rehabilitation Services
- Consulting services
- Document conservation services
- Training

*MCX-CMAC is located at the St. Louis District of the US Army Corps of Engineers.
For more information, visit our website: <http://www.mvs.usace.army.mil/>*

