To whomever this may concern:

I just read the article headlined "Corps settles on plan for radioactive waste" in the May 9, 2003 issue of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. I was shocked by what I read because as a kid I lived (1963-65) in a house (Berkridge Avenue just off Latty Avenue) that sat literally right on top of buried radioactive waste! And hey, as a 9-year-old kid I was often off playing in Coldwater Creek with my friends which I only now, some 40 years later, find out is tainted with uranium. Wonderful, NOT!

Anyway, I see that the Corps is recommending spending $223 million on removing the contaminated soil. I'm strongly in support of that and spending whatever it takes (the $286 million proposal for example) to clean up this area. It is the right and moral thing to do and no time should be wasted in doing so.

Sincerely,

Gary Grigsby
